Dear Sir:

I am writing this endorsement of your Big Sunday Football League Game. BSFL is a great teaching tool for learning the basic strategies of American Professional Football. Over the years, I have played and collected many sports games. Many of those games are good in concept but bog down with cumbersome rules or lengthy play times. I find BSFL to be a great simulation without lengthy rules or extended playing time.

I coach high school football in the football crazy state of Georgia. Our coaches are always looking for ways to compete with each other and BSFL gives us that chance. I fully expect our players to embrace the game as a “relaxing” way to prepare for our Friday night games while we lounge around on Friday afternoons awaiting “Go Time”!

Again, great game and continued best wishes in its spread throughout America and eventually abroad as the world loves American Football!

Sincerely,

John Bowen
